December 1, 2015

Dear AFWA Members and Friends:

Over the years, thanks to your generosity, the Indianapolis Chapter of the Accounting & Financial Women's Alliance has been able to award scholarships to deserving women college accounting students. You have made a difference in the lives and college careers of many young women who have received the Ida S. Broo and Mary Lindley Wells Scholarships. In 2015, those recipients were Andrea Allensworth ($1,500) and Elizabeth Smitherman ($1,000).

One of the principal reasons AFWA was founded in Indianapolis in 1938 by Ida S. Broo was to encourage qualified women to enter the accounting profession. The Ida S. Broo Scholarship Trust was founded in her honor to assist worthy college accounting students in the Indianapolis area. This trust funds the two scholarships which our Chapter awards each year to deserving women majoring in accounting: The Ida S. Broo Scholarship assists traditional junior level students and the Mary Lindley Wells Scholarship was established to assist non-traditional students.

The funding of our scholarships comes exclusively from donations from our members and friends of AFWA. We encourage you to contribute generously to the Trust. If possible, ask your employer to match your contribution. Let your employer and business associates know that their support of our scholarship program will benefit them in the future by ensuring that students who wish to pursue a degree in accounting are financially able to do so. As always, our contributors at the Platinum, Gold and Silver levels will be recognized in the Chapter newsletter.

Students are the future of our profession and the future of AFWA. They need and appreciate support from those of us who have already been where they are now. Please give generously. All contributions are tax deductible.
